| War Flying
| L. F. Hutcheon |

Published in 1917, this "little volume of 'Theta's' letters to his home people" was assembled to provide useful information for young men who might like to become pilots for the Royal Flying Corps. A mixture of conversational letters, poems, and descriptions of flying, the book proves entertaining, even today, despite having been written in training and in active duty during World War I. - Summary by Lynette Caulkins

Read by volunteer readers. Total running time: 02:22:57

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover images from original text scan. Copyright expired in US, Canada, EU, and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by TriciaG. This design is in the public domain.